Council Incumbents Reelected For Another Two Year Term

by David Stern and Sid Kastner

In an election relatively free from controversial issues, Greenbelt residents last Tuesday reelected their 5 incumbent City Council members for another 2-year term. The voters also supported by a wide margin constitutional guarantees to the cities' home rule authority.

Although the incumbents ran as a slate, their vote tally (see box below) showed considerable variation. Especially noteworthy was the second-place rating of Gerald Gough, who had been appointed to the council only two months earlier.

The referendum question presented to the voters was "Shall the existing home rule authority of the City of Greenbelt and other municipalities (present and future) be guaranteed by a new Maryland Constitution?" Its purpose was to present the Constitutional Convention now meeting with an expression of voter opinion on the controversial issue of municipal powers, and it was approved by a great majority of the voters.

Tuesday's turnout of 1290 fell far short of the 1393 votes cast in 1963 (with 1292 at the run-off that followed), although the number of registered voters was considerably higher this year. A cameraman for CBS (Channel 9) covered the election and his film appeared in the same evening's local newscast.

Election Odds and Ends

In addition to the votes cast for the major candidates, 86 write-in votes were counted, listing a large number of names. One vote was cast for local developer Charles Bresler, but according to City Clerk Nita Maschauer, this vote was invalid, since Bresler is not registered as a voter in Greenbelt. "They did not vote for me" she added. Of the valid write-in votes, Bruce Bowman and Harvey Geller received 23 each.

One week earlier, a straw poll was conducted in Greenbelt, with the cooperation of a teacher of the University of Maryland, by local resident Michael Sprague.

The poll predicted reelection of the four old-time incumbents, but gave Gough only seventh place. Sprague himself, however, noted that the sample was not completely unbiased: since he did his polling in the daytime, a disproportionate number of those interviewed belonged to the fairer sex.

City Council Election

Edgar L. Smith	906
Gerald F. Gough	783
William L. Hoff	744
Richard R. Pilski	740
Francis W. White	730
Clifford H. Simonson	668
Leo Gerton	588
Harold A. Siegel	486

1071 votes were cast in the advisory referendum, of which 969 supported constitutional guarantee of municipal home rule and 102 were opposed. A total of 1290 votes for council members was cast.

Tuesday's turnout was one of the lightest in recent years. Only 67.8% of the city's 1904 voters participated, compared to 72.2% in 1965, 80.8% in 1963 and 72.0% in 1961. Only one candidate failed to receive 40% of the vote (516 votes), which is the new requirement for election without run-off.

The Greenbelt Youth Council

A new organization is in the process of being formed in the city of Greenbelt. Entitled the Greenbelt Youth Council, its purpose is to discuss and present the opinions, criticisms, and suggestions of the Greenbelt teenager to the city official and see what possible action can be taken.

A temporary board, appointed at last Thursday's meeting, has set up the following dates and times for registration and voting:

Registration - Sept. 25 to Sept. 30 at the Greenbelt Municipal Bldg. from 4 to 7 p.m.

Voting - Mon., Oct. 2 to Wed., Oct. 4 at the Greenbelt Municipal Bldg. from 4 to 7 p.m.

All teens are reminded that only registered persons may vote. Each registered person may cast 12 votes, three delegates in each age group - under 15, 15 to 17, and 18 to 20. Also on the ballot will be the names of persons between the ages of 21 and 25 who will be running for the positions of advisors to the youths. Anyone wishing to run in the election, must submit his or her name on Fri., Sept. 22 between 4 and 7 p.m. at the Greenbelt Municipal Bldg. or on Sat., Sept. 23 between 1 and 3 p.m. at the Greenbelt Municipal Bldg. Anyone wishing to run who will celebrate a birthday before Jan. 1, 1968 that will change his age group may run either in his present age group or the group into which he will change.

This opportunity is available to the youth of the entire city, and all teenagers are strongly urged to take advantage of it. The organization will not only aid the youths, but should also contribute towards a better communication between the parents and their children. This council will not succeed without the support of the teens, so come out and show some interest in your organization.

News Review Libel Case Hearing Held

A motion to dismiss the $2,000,000 libel suit filed by Charles S. Bresler, local developer, against the Greenbelt News Review came up for hearing before Judge Roscoe H. Parker on Tuesday, September 19, in the Prince Georges Circuit Court.

After a hearing on a motion by the defendants to dismiss the case for plaintiff's failure to produce financial records relating to his profits on the Charlestowne Tract, the court ordered that all references to the editorial of July 7, 1966, be stricken from the case. The editorial was one of ten articles sued upon.

A pre-trial hearing has been set for September 29.

Special Meeting Notice

There will be an organizational meeting of the new City Council Monday, September 25, 1967 at 7:30 p.m. in the City Offices.

Hearing On Open Housing

The Prince Georges County Commissioners will hold two public hearings on the county's proposed open housing ordinance, which is expected to be adopted in October. The ordinance covers both new and existing housing, but exempts individual home owners who specify in writing that they do not wish to sell on an open occupancy basis, and several categories of small multi-family rental dwellings. The first hearing will be held at the County Service building in Hyattsville, Sept. 25 at 8 p.m., the second at Upper Marlboro on Sept. 26 at 1 p.m.

Open Occupancy Discussion at SHL

"An Open Occupancy Ordinance for Prince George's County" will be the subject of a panel discussion and opinion poll at a meeting of the Springhill Lake Democratic Club on September 27, at 8 p.m., in the Springhill Lake Community Building in Greenbelt.

Francis B. Francois, vice-chairman of the Board of County Commissioners; Albert Herling, the former chairman of the Greenbelt Citizens For Fair Housing; and an official representative of the Prince George's County Board of Realtors, Inc., will be the panelists.

Following the discussion and a question period, all Springhill Lake apartment residents who are present will be given an opportunity to respond to a questionnaire. The results will be made public. The public is invited to attend.

Membership Meeting Oct. 11; GHI Costs Slightly Higher

by Sandra Barnes

At the bi-monthly GHI board meeting Sept. 14, an agenda for the October 11 meeting of GHI members was agreed upon. The board hopes to have City Manager James Giese deliver the main address, "Relations Between City Services and GHI". Other topics to be discussed will be the status of the school suit, the status of the larger homes, parking and maintenance. A question and answer period will be followed by refreshments and awarding of three door prizes.

Budget Report

General Manager Roy Breashears presented a comparison of operating costs with the forecasted costs over the first six months of 1967.

It was projected that GHI would spend $38,397 in excess of receipts while in actuality $57,206 was disbursed. The main differences occurred when GHI projected that $2,000 would be spent on the school site case whereas expenditures have amounted to $6,430 on the project so far.

The other major expense, $17,400, went for the refurbishing of two boilers for frame houses. This item had not been in the forecast.

Dave Kane, maintenance director, stated that the boilers are expected to last from 15-20 years, and the board members agreed that such maintenance costs, though not always foreseen, have to be expected.

Law Suit over Taxes

In other action, the board discussed its pending law suit against the county, which is no longer giving some senior citizens (65 years and older who have an income of less than $4000) a property tax break. The county claims that such people are not property owners. However, GHI affirms that each GHI member is a property owner and therefore contributes in his monthly payments, his share to the total property taxes collected.

It has been GHI's policy to deduct such tax money from the monthly charges paid by the exempted individuals. Pending court action, these people will have to begin paying their share of the property taxes as of Oct. 1.

However, GHI finds itself in a predicament. After not having collected the tax money for the first nine month of this year, the corporation is said to owe $1473 in additional taxes, the amount that the senior citizens would have contributed.

Board members voted not to pay the additional taxes, due Sept. 29, pending the outcome of the court's decision. Should the court rule against GHI, the board voted to pay the money and collect the sum from the senior citizens at the time of the resale of their homes.

Sheds Again

GHI is still having headaches with members who violate the shed regulations. The general manager's office is trying to learn of all violations, particularly at the time of resale of homes so that an unsuspecting new member is not made to pay for his predecessors's violation.

Board members concurred that new violations should not be permitted. Katherine Keene noted that just because someone has already spent money on a shed doesn't mean he shouldn't be made to take the shed down or locate it where it conforms to the rules.

However, John O'Reilly suggested that the board consider liberalizing the shed policy as more and more members are finding they have a greater need for sheds. The suggestion went to the Maintenance and Improvements Committee.

Visitor Speaks Up

Herbert Lennhoff, 33H Ridge, called the board's attention to the fact that he believed many members would like to attend GHI board meetings if they knew what would be on the agenda and were made more aware of when meetings were taking place. He also pointed out that members were not aware that they could bring up a special problem (one not routinely handled by the general manager's office) at board meetings and it is possible for corrective action to be taken right then.

It was noted that the board meets on the second and fourth Thursday of each month and posts its agenda about four days prior to the meeting between Twin Pines and the electrical appliance shop. Mr. Lennhoff suggested that the News Review print the future meetings of the GHI board a week prior to the meeting as well as on the day of the meeting so that members might make plans to attend.

Committee Reports

Finance Committee chairman John O'Reilly reported that his committee was studying the scope of the audit report and that there was a question on whether to engage a new auditing firm. Also, his committee is studying the functioning of reserve funds in terms of the long-range needs of the corporation.

The Ad Hoc Land Purchase Committee recommended not to purchase the land adjacent to Boxwood Village. The board, however, took no action pending another report by a different land committee.

Roy Breashears reported that the four free-standing homes all have prospective buyers and are now ready for occupancy.

Finally, the board unanimously recommended that attorney Albert Ginsberg's retainer be increased from $125 a month to $225 as his services to the corporation have more than doubled in the past two years. In addition, costs were rising and GHI has been very well-pleased with Mr. Ginsberg's work.

Greenbelt Democrats

The Greenbelt Democratic Club will hold its regularly scheduled meeting on Wednesday, September 27, at 8 p.m. at the Greenbelt Municipal Building. All members are urged to attend. Following the meeting, the Club will adjourn to Spring Hill Lake as guests of the Spring Hill Lake Democratic Club for the program on open occupancy legislation.

Call for Volunteers
As Voter Registrars

A call for volunteer registrars to participate in a County-wide voter registration drive went out this week from Mrs. William H. Kaechele, newly-elected chairman of Non-Partisan Register and Vote Committee.

The first special registration for new voters, regardless of political affiliation, will be held in all Prince Georges County elementary schools on Tuesday, October 3, and Junior High Schools on October 10, coinciding with the regular "open house" held in each school.

Prior to the registration, a special training program for volunteer registrars will be held on Thursday, September 28, in various locations around the County, under the direction of the County Board of Supervisors of Elections.

Persons interested in volunteering the few hours required for this important public service must be registered, either Democrats or Republicans, and may participate in the training sessions at the Police Academy in Forestville at 10 a.m. or 8 p.m. on the 28th, or on the same day in the auditoriums at Capital Plaza Shopping Center or Greenbelt Municipal Building at 8 p.m. only.

Voters who are already registered must report any changes of address to the Election Board. Such changes of address or changes of political affiliation may be made at the October 3 registration in any County elementary school or October 10 in any Junior High school. Voters may also register who decline to list any political party preference.

Free Film Showings
At County Library

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 27, 28 and 29, the Prince Georges County Memorial Library will present the 40 award winning films selected at the 1967 American Film Festival held in New York City last spring.

The group of films, each selected as the best in a variety of categories, will be shown in the Meeting Room of the Hyattsville Library. There is no charge.

Films will run continuously, afternoon showings starting at 1:30 and ending at about 6 p.m. Evening showings will begin at 7 p.m. and run to about 9:30. The films vary in length, some lasting only ten minutes or so.

Sample films are: BATTLE OF THE BULGE, actual battle footage to document what war is like for the individual soldier; PADDLE TO THE SEA, a toy canoe man, carved by an Indian boy from Northern Canada, and thrown into a stream, finally reaches the Atlantic Ocean. ROBERT FROST, portrait of the American poet.

The Police Blotter

The Police Department has a new look this fall. The new forest green jacket is less bulky than the old type, and enables guns to be worn in a more accessible position. New equipment for the police cars includes double flashing roof lights and a new siren and loudspeaker arrangement.

Police Chief Lane will be present at the School Night for Scouting, Sept. 28, 7:30 p.m., at Center School. As Commissioner of Scouting for the Greenbelt area, he urges boys over 8 years of age to sign up at this meeting. Boys of high school age are invited to join the Explorer Post.
